Is It Your Kidneys?

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Trouble.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary troubles sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where the danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of this vicinity are constantly testifying.

Mrs. C. F. Ware, Pleasant St., South Paris, Me., says: "One of my family suffered from kidney trouble. There were sharp shooting pains through the small of the back and dizzy spells and headaches. On a friend's advice Doan's Kidney Pills were used. They gave prompt relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Retired Georgia Planter's Advice to Kidney Sufferers

Regarding the wonderful curative merits of your Swamp-Root, I cannot say too much. After suffering severely for three years or more with severe pains caused by weak kidneys, I was finally induced to try Swamp-Root through a testimonial I read in one of the newspapers. I was in such a condition that I was obliged to arise from my bed six or eight times every night. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and before it was used I felt so much relief that I purchased a one-dollar bottle and by the time this was taken the old pains had left my back and I could sleep the whole night through. I am a retired planter, 70 years of age, and owing to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I am in the best of health and feel like a boy. I am always glad to recommend Swamp-Root to those who are in need of it.

Sincerely yours,
C. E. USSERY, Bowdoin, Ga.

Personally appeared before me, this 8th of September, 1909, C. E. USSERY, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

T. H. McLANE, Notary Public.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You. Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Norway, Weekly Oxford Co. Me., Advertiser. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

A Song of Sweden.

Written for Sweden's Centennial Aug. 1913, in honor of its 100th birthday.

Far up in the granite hills of Maine, 'neath the blue New England sky, Rich with the fields of golden grain, The grand old home of Sweden lies.

Mr. Pleasant smiles over a dimpled hill, Face of the proud old town, From the west, over its flashing silver rills, Chearful voices ring the little town.

How hard our fathers had to work! In building up this rugged town, Not one would ever a duty shirk, And made their lands such riches yield, Their bing source held it all.

From Sweden, many a noble soldier brave, Went out from its tender loving arms, In the midst of war's alarms, Many always stand and love them.

With a heart that's firm and true, As the marble shaft above them, Guarding those who bore the blue, May ever the sun of heaven look down.

On strong, brave men, and true, And when they die, their names shall live, Be filled with noble women too.

We thank the Lord, who kindly gave This land more precious than gold; And whisper Peace, through every fold. Make peace, far cattle contented graze, Through every lane and hill, And may the fields of golden maize Their soil's richness glorify.

Cast thy mantle, Time, upon her Gently as the evening dew; May we never her dishonor.

By a deed or word untrue, Long may the light of prosperity glow On mountain, field and dell, And happy hearts be glad to live, And softly whisper, "All is well."

The World's All Right.

My boy, it's a pretty good world, you'll find, If you look straight ahead and don't look behind.

Though it shows sometimes, And it shows sometimes, And you think it is flooded with woes.

It's a good old world, And it's a good old world, When you make it so.

Just look to the right wherever you go, That somewhere the grand old sun's aglow!

"Get up and give!" And a lot of it.

There's a shadow here and a dark place there, But you'll find the sunshine everywhere.

If you look for it, it's sure to be there, Rub the word "Pessimist" off your slate!

Meet the knocks with a grin, And never give up your fight.

And, sooner or later, you're bound to win!

WHY YOU SHOULD USE CHILTON PAINT

It is a Pure Linseed Oil Paint. It contains no Benzine or Naphtha in any form. Its record for durability is not surpassed. It has been used here in Norway for 20 years. It covers more, covers better and wears longer than many other advertised brands.

It really costs less than paints sold for less money, for it must be thinned with Linseed Oil or Turpentine before using.

Try it this year and you will always demand it.

Economy Hints

A penny saved is a penny earned.—Benjamin Franklin.

Short Cuts to Thrift.

One of the things that can be utilized by the thrifty housekeeper is the ever present, despised string which comes around bundles and packages. Tie the strings together, making fairly large knots and being careful not to trim off the ends—the more irregular the better. Then with a pair of coarse needles knit into bath mats. If you are fortunate in having a variety of colors, by judicious blending they can be made to look strikingly like some of the Turkish rugs, especially if you use the gilt cord which comes around boxes of confectionery. They are not only serviceable, but have the added merit of washing forever. All of the colors are fast except pink. As most of the strings now in use in the shops are white the ends of the rugs can be made any desired color, either by dyeing or by making of balls of solid color, costing about 5 cents apiece.

Another economy consists in saving all the odds and ends of soap excepting the coarsest kitchen kinds. When you have about a quart put on the stove to melt, adding a pint of warm water. As soon as these become thoroughly melted stir in a scant pint of oatmeal or oatmeal flakes—the kind used for porridge. Keep stirring until dissolved—only a few minutes if hot—then add a tablespoonful of extract of almond. Turn into a pan to harden. When cool cut into cakes. This soap is not attractive in appearance, as it becomes rather dark, but it has a curative property and rapidly heals chapped hands, rendering them smooth and white.

Glove fingers make splendid protection for the stems of flowers, especially if the flowers are fresh and young pinned to a white dress. Save the fingers, insert the flower stems in them and pin to dress and no dampness or stain will injure the most delicate dress.

As every woman knows, the legs of stockings are being torn out continually to the detriment of her patience and pocketbook. But do not discard the stockings, no matter how badly torn. Lay two together, fold over and over, putting a layer of newspaper in one fold, sew the edges together and you have a mighty good iron holder.

An excellent floor mop may be made from old stockings in this manner: Slash them in strips an inch wide, forming a fringe. Stitch several thicknesses of this to a strip of cloth three inches wide and ten inches long. Machine stitching is best. Saturate this with a good furniture polish and fasten in a mop stick. By using this daily upon hardwood floors they are kept free from dust and given a beautiful polish.

HOW TO ANCHOR PORCH TABLE COVERS.

Whoever may be blessed with an airy porch will be glad to know that she may keep the table covers in place by weighting them.

Sew in each corner a piece of muslin about an inch square, making it like a little pocket, open at one end. Slip into each pocket a metal weight about the size of a quarter, such as tailors use for weighting coats. When the cover needs washing it will be easy to remove the weights.

The comfort of finding the covers on the tables and not on the porch floor will be the reward you will reap for the little trouble you have taken.

How to Clean White Feathers.

White feathers of any kind, especially white willow plumes, can be cleaned at home to look like new at a very small cost.

Take one quart of gasoline and 5 cents' worth of plaster of paris and mix together to the consistency of whipped cream. Dip the feathers in this mixture several times and squeeze and pat them for a few minutes. Then hang up in the open air to dry thoroughly and until all the gasoline has evaporated. Remember never to use gasoline in a room with a light or fire. It is very explosive.

How to Rest the Eyes.

To relieve the fatigue of the eyes after a long day spent out of doors bathe them with a warm solution of boracic acid, soaking pads of absorbent wool in the lotion and laying them over the eyes for a few minutes, changing them two or three times. This rests and soothes them and restores their brightness.

How to Mend Lace Curtains.

Take strips of net the right size or good parts of old curtains and dip them into hot starch. Apply these pieces to the worn places while the starch is hot and they will adhere and will not show as much as darns would.

How to Boil a Cracked Egg.

To prevent the contents of a cracked egg from boiling out gently rub the crack with damp salt before immersing the egg in water, and allow time for the salt to penetrate.

Mother Goose Riddle.

Black we are, but much admired;
Men seek for us till they are tired.
We're the horse, but comfort man.
Tell me this riddle if you can.
Answer.—Cools.

Information Desired.

After the third addition to the family it became necessary to secure the services of a permanent nurse.

"Now, my husband is very particular whom I engage as a nurse," said the mistress to a girl who had applied for the position. "He wishes me to go into the most minute details about your qualifications. Do you know how to prepare food? Can you sew and mend? Do you mind sitting up late at night? Are you faithful and devoted, and have you a kind, loving, disposition? Will you?"

"Excuse me, madam; am I to take care of the baby or your husband?" asked the girl—Boston Post.

Not on Her List.

Mrs. Vaughn was out shopping one morning, and upon her return home she asked Annie, her maid, if there had been any callers during her absence.

"Yes, mum," replied Annie. "Who called?" inquired the mistress. "Mrs. Cassidy, mum," said the girl. "Mrs. Cassidy?" repeated Mrs. Vaughn thoughtfully. "Why, I don't know any Mrs. Cassidy."

"No, mum," answered Annie. "She didn't come to see you, mum; she came to see me."—Lippincott's.

No Door Handy.

At an annual series of races "for all comers" the sun was blazing down on a field of hot, excited horses and men all waiting for a tall, rawboned beast to get into line.

The patience of the starter was nearly exhausted. "Bring up that horse!" he shouted. "Bring him up!"

The rider of the refractory beast, a youthful Irishman, yelled back: "I can't. This here's been a cab horse, and he won't start till he hears the door shut, and I ain't got no door."—Ladies' Home Journal.

An Example.

The teacher was hearing the grammar class.

"An abstract noun is the name of something you can think of, but not touch." Now, Philip, can you give me an example?"

Philip looked thoughtful for a moment, then his face brightened.

"Yes, ma'am," he said—"a red hot poker."—New York Tribune.

"How's your garden coming out?"

"Thanks to the neighbors' chickens, it's coming out faster than I can plant it."—Pittsburgh Press.

We notice as we pass the excellent work that N. F. Fox, road commissioner of Lovell, is doing on the State road where he plows and takes out the dirt and puts in rocks. He is very particular to have the rocks even on top, none four or six inches higher than others. He has built a very nice bridge with very stout railings so that autos will have but pretty hard to get over into the stream. We think the voters of Lovell were pretty level headed when they put Fox in road commissioner.

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years. It kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs."

Scribner's Mills.

Since 1848, this locality, first known for a few years as "Barrows' Mills," has been a scene of constant activity in the manufacture of lumber, both hard and soft, into many useful commercial forms.

For 83 years this property has been operated by three generations of the name of Scribner. The first 30 years but little besides custom sawing of long lumber and shingles was done.

About 1884, a new administration of the lumbering business came into control under the name of "Scribner Bros., who were the sons of the first Scribner, of 18 and 12 years respectively, but of an indefinite quality of grit and intelligence.

Since then the whirl and whizz of pulleys, belts, saws and planes have made the air musical from end to end of the years, about all the music heard in this quiet hamlet between the hills.

But Bourdon and Jesse Scribner, at their home mill under the firm and style of "Scribner Bros.," and at East Hiram by the firm name of "The Hiram Lumber Co.," have for years continued to grow in strength and importance and are now among the prominent factors of the business of the State.

Messrs. Scribner have turned out from this mill this year, 300,000 feet of long lumber, 350,000 shingles, have under contract 2,500,000 shooks and 48,000 corn boxes for Burnham & Morrill of Portland for various packing shops. The corn box season calls for a crew of 16 workers. Last year and year before the average output of corn boxes was 75,000.

The river has been so low there has been a scant supply for sawing.

Edward J. Scribner, a school boy of 13, goes home for his dinner at noon, one mile in 4 minutes on a bicycle.

But somebody was led into temptation by those melons, and between two days they disappeared from the garden.
